

The figure displays a complex plane plot with three distinct trajectories. The trajectories are composed of discrete points connected by lines, forming nested, roughly circular paths. The blue trajectory is the outermost, followed by the red, and then the green. Each trajectory has a small crosshair-like marker at a specific point. The x-axis is labeled 'x' and ranges from -0.6 to 0.6.

